

The Midway Foundation  for Integrative Medicine presents...

Healing Young Brains

Friday, November 4 - Sunday, November 6, 2011

Lexington, KY

This is the Brain Conference Of the Year!!

Epidemics of brain disorders, especially impacting our youth, make it increasingly important to bring cutting edge information on successful clinical interventions to those who can ultimately reverse this situation.

Thanks to the growth in our knowledge of genetics, toxicology, autoimmune dysfunction and the impact of nutrient absorbability and function, together with successful clinical interventions utilizing this information in brain dysfunction, it becomes increasingly clear that biochemical impact is the primary process in disorders including ADHD, autism, Tourette's, bipolar, panic and related disorders.

Come listen to Leading Practitioners who are successfully treating brain dysfunction teach us how to successfully intervene.
